Housing

Living on campus is the best way to get involved and connected to the University of Kentucky. To learn about all of the options available to you in Undergraduate Housing visit our website at www.uky.edu/housing. While there, make sure to check out our Living Learning Programs. They offer a unique opportunity to take your on-campus living experience to the next level by living with students who are studying or show interest in the same topics as you.

As soon as you are admitted to the University, make sure you apply for Housing and a Living Learning Program online at myuk.uky.edu. Select the "Undergraduate Housing" link on the Student Services tab then click the myInfo tab. Housing assignments are based on the University admissions track and the student's housing application completion date. Acceptance into a Living and Learning Program designates the specific residence hall. Because of demand, housing is not guaranteed. Applying early is strongly encouraged.

Financial Aid

The Office of Student Financial Aid administers awards of more than $400M annually in financial aid funds to University of Kentucky students. Funding from federal, state and University financial aid programs is available to students who can demonstrate need for financial assistance.

Students who wish to be considered for need-based financial aid funds should file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) with the federal processor by December 1 (freshmen). Transfer students must file by March 15. All aid is subject to availability of funds. Eligible students who file after the above dates may receive less assistance because some funds will already be exhausted. Freshmen and transfer students who are Kentucky residents are encouraged to file the FAFSA as soon after October 1 as possible to increase the likelihood of receiving Kentucky College Access Program (CAP) Grant funds which are limited. The FAFSA is available online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. If you are unable to file online, you can obtain a paper copy of the FAFSA from your high school guidance office or by calling 800-433-3243. UK's FAFSA code is 001989. The University of Kentucky's Net Price Calculator will calculate an ESTIMATE of the general types and amount of financial aid you might expect to receive for your freshman year when you enroll full-time at the University of Kentucky. Please visit npc.collegeboard.org/student/app/uky.

Academic Scholarships

The University of Kentucky offers a number of scholarships to students with an outstanding record of academic achievement and performance. Please visit www.uky.edu/AcademicScholarships for the latest information about scholarship offerings.

Depending on specific scholarship funds, applicants may be evaluated on a wide scope of factors such as academic pursuits, scholastic achievement, community involvement, leadership abilities, athletic and musical talents, standardized test scores and financial need. The Searchable Scholarship Tool is a searchable database of institutional undergraduate scholarships awarded by the University of Kentucky. You may search for specific criteria, or make selections from the drop-down menus to generate a list of scholarship opportunities for which you may be eligible to apply. To search the scholarship database, please visit iweb.uky.edu/Scholarships/Search.aspx.

Lewis Honors College

Applicants to the Lewis Honors College typically have at least a 28 ACT or 1310 SAT (M + EBRW) and an unweighted GPA of 3.50 on a 4.00 scale. These minimums are not guarantees of admission to the program, but act as a benchmark for consideration. All applicants should be aware that Honors admission decisions are made independently of Competitive Academic Scholarships and applications will not be reviewed until a student has been admitted to the University. Students in the Honors College strive to increase their depth of thought, think critically, cultivate ideas and successfully articulate their opinions in an organized and coherent manner. While these are all skills that students will build throughout their undergraduate careers, the admissions committee looks to see that Honors applicants have begun honing those skills, and so an applicant's essay responses carry a large amount of weight in the admission process. To learn more, visit www.uky.edu/Honors. The deadline for submission of your application and all required documents is December 1, 2017. Early application is strongly encouraged as available positions may fill before December 1.

Response to one of the following two essay questions is required if you are applying for the Competitive Academic Scholarships and/or the Lewis Honors College. Please provide essay response on a separate sheet. Please select one of the following essay topics – maximum 500 words:

- Here's an icebreaker for you: the idea of "breaking the ice" to get to know someone better comes from when countries would break ice in frozen waterways so that trade ships could come through. To be "caught red-handed" dates back to a law that someone could only be punished for killing someone else's animal if the blood was still on their hands. All languages are full of rich turns of phrase and colorful ways of expressing ordinary ideas - they take something very particular and make it a colorful saying about something much more general. Invent your own expression and tell us a story about the historical or personal background behind it. What did your cliché originally refer to? What would it mean years later?
- For its series "Uninvent This," The New Yorker asked writers to discuss what they wished had never been invented. Answers covered everything from technology to mundane objects to concepts. In that same spirit, what would you uninvent, and how would your life - and the world - be different without it?
